Tech Stack

■ Framework	Next.js 14	App Router, Server Components, Server Actions, TypeScript
■ Styling	Tailwind CSS	Custom design system with shadcn-style components, dark mode support
■ Auth & DB	Supabase	PostgreSQL database, Row-Level Security, Auth, Storage for logos
■ Forms	React Hook Form + Zod	Type-safe form validation with schema-based error handling
■ PDF	@react-pdf/renderer	Server-side PDF generation for quotes and invoices
■ Deployment	Netlify / Vercel	Edge deployment, environment variables, CI/CD from GitHub
■ Security	RLS Policies	All tables protected — users can only access their own data
■ Package Mgr	npm	Node.js 18+, standard npm workspace

Architecture Overview

The application follows a server-first architecture using Next.js 14 App Router. Data fetching happens in Server Components via Supabase server client. Mutations use Server Actions (no separate API routes needed). Authentication state is managed via Supabase session cookies, validated in middleware.ts on every request. All database tables enforce Row-Level Security — the Supabase anon key is safe to expose client-side.

Browser (Client)	→	Next.js Server Component	→	Supabase (PostgreSQL + RLS)
User action (form)	→	Server Action	→	Supabase mutation
PDF download	→	@react-pdf/renderer (server)	→	Binary stream to browser
Logo upload	→	Supabase Storage API	→	Public CDN URL stored in DB
